

MARINE ENGINEERING STUDENTS ATTENDED SAFETY TRAINING AT MITC

113 students from the Diploma in Marine Engineering programme were in ASMI recently for their safety induction training. The second-year students from Singapore Polytechnic attended the one-day Shipyard Safety Instruction Course (SSIC) conducted at the Marine Industry Training Centre (MITC) operated by ASMI.

The Association is an approved training provider under the Ministry of Manpower for the SSIC in General Trade. These students, trained in three batches over three days, were preparing for their industrial attachment programme in shipyards and companies in the marine industry.

ASMI MEMBERS' NETWORKING NITE AT THE MARINA @ KEPPEL BAY

ASMI Members' Networking Nite was held at The Wine Glass and Island Suite at the Marina @ Keppel Bay. The Networking Nite provided an evening of engagement with business associates from the marine and offshore industry.

The casual setting at the Island Suite and cosy ambience of The Wine Glass made it easy for members to mingle, while enjoying the sumptuous buffet dinner spread and free flow of wine, beer and juices. There was also a karaoke session for members to express themselves and entertain one another. The networking session was attended by some 80 representatives from 55 companies.

Mr George Ching, Chairman of ASMI Social and Membership Promotion Committee, kicked off the reception with a welcome address to thank members for their attendance and support of the Association's activities throughout the year.
